For a sustained team teaching approach that meets the challenges of teaching early childhood education in Australia, with Sharon leading the team. The award was and Teaching Council (ALTC) Teaching Award in Committees where her contribution was greatly valued. but because she exemplified it. This commitment led her to membership and leadership of UniSA Ethics behaviour, not so much because she talked about it but because she lived it. As many of you will have experienced, Sharon was very supportive of her colleagues, and she willingly have shared stories about the significant ways that she worked to mentor people into their new roles. Many people have said that they prepared for the new SACE requirements and moderation procedures.

Generosity and hospitality are two words that spring around, despite being allergic to them! Sharon loved to paint, and that she liked to have cats early for the pancake dessert! Did you know that at their place. No-one went hungry and we lined up at their place. No-one went hungry and we lined up...
