Sponsorship Proposal

Invitation

The Mathematical Association of South Australia (MASA) and the South Australian Science Teachers Association (SASTA) would like to invite your involvement in the upcoming 2023 STEM Conference for year 6-11 teachers on Friday 1 December 2023 at Flinders University.

Following on from the success of previous Conferences, we are expecting to attract around 120 registrants and 30 presenters from year 6 - 11 from the three sectors (the Department for Education, Catholic Education SA and Independent Schools).

The 2023 STEM Conference will bring together science, mathematics, design and technologies and digital technologies teachers, classroom teachers, leaders in education and businesses who are interested in sharing and exploring teaching methods, tools, resources, and related activities for implementing Maths, Science & STEM education into our schools and communities.

The 2023 theme 'STEM Connections' supports the connection between maths and science, industry connections with STEM learning in schools, the convergence of industry and technology, the emergence of AI and other new technologies and their connection to STEM learning, as well as ongoing partnerships between STEM professionals and teachers in school and more. This provides a great opportunity for our delegates to speak with sponsors & exhibitors about the best way to support these STEM Connections.
